PASSIONS '86

Mark,

I think you are the craziest guy I know. I've seen you in a bad mood and without a smile- I've really enjoyed fourth period with you. You're a very special person and you're so full of fun. Stay that way. Don't be a stranger next year and not talk to me! Hope you have a great summer cause I will! Don't tear up your car! Best of luck with the women!

Love ya!

Beth Stilwell

P.S. I really do have a pair of western boots! Believe it or not!

HA! HA!

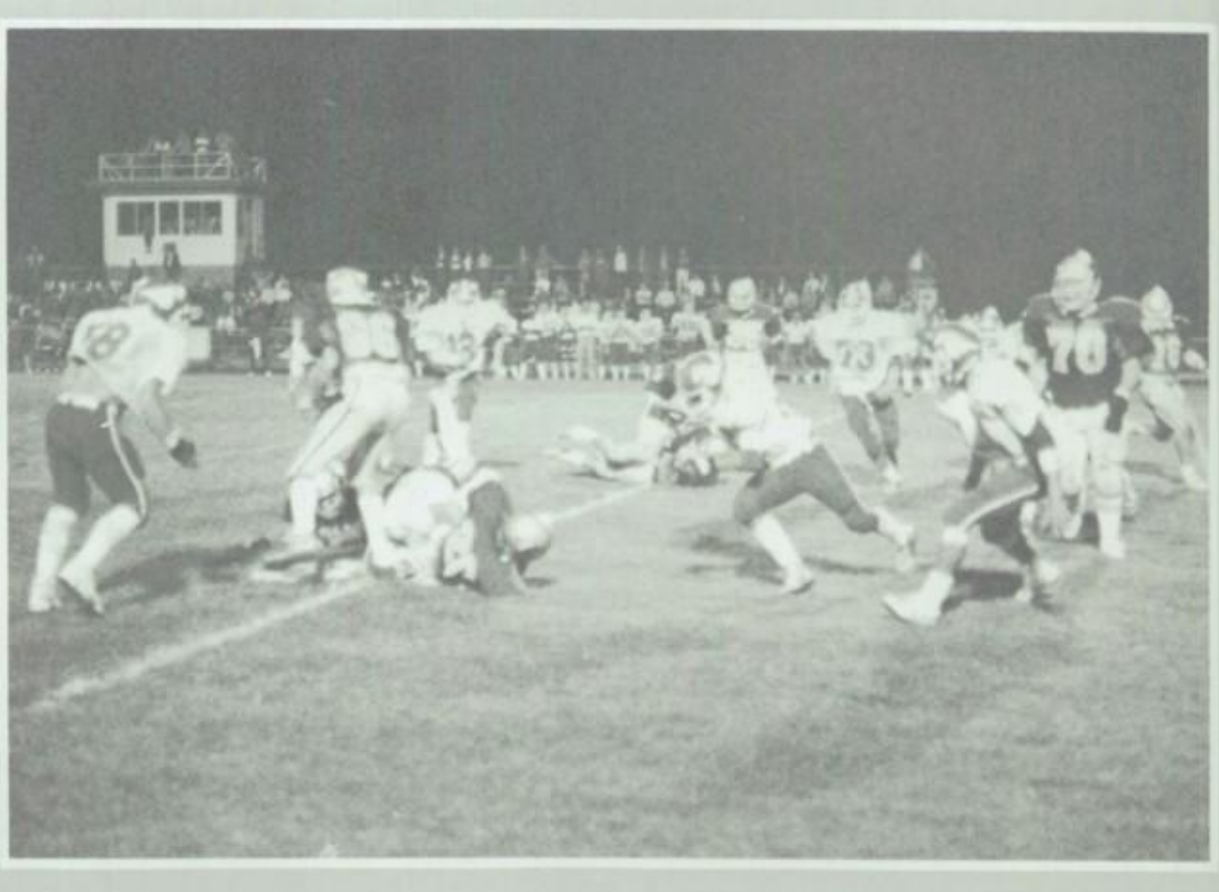
WHAT A YEAR IT WAS!!!

PASSION'AT'E



FOARD

Fun, as always, is the underlying theme of Foard's annual Spirit week.This year's five day fun-for-all was accented by a different style of dress for each day of the week.

Monday started simply enough with GQ-VOGUE day. This was a day in which all dressed in high fashion and high spirits. Next was Halloween Day, which filled the halls with ghoulish creatures dressed in their spooky best.

A "day at the beach" was the theme of Wednesday's dress up style, including fruity shirts and Bermuda shorts.

Our next stop in the festivities was Mustang Day. All of the cowboys and cowgirls let their country pride and clothes shine.

The final stop on our trip through Spirit Week was Tiger Mania Day. All true tigers passionately showed their stripes by dressing up in Foard's school colors.

Spirit Week was fun for everyone, and brought out our school spirit enough to make the long awaited homecoming an experience to treasure.

It's a total shock for Tim Lail.

TIM LAIL CROWNED MR. IRRESISTIBLE

Football players are watching the game intently.

Cheerleaders show their Tiger spirit! They make posters for every game. Homecoming was a very special time.

The six girls stand together after the crowning.

CARROUSEL PRINCESS
. . . ROBIN PRICE

Posing pretty.

In keeping with Foard's tradition of sending bright, beautiful young ladies to the Carrousel competition in Charlotte, Robin Price was named Foard's 1985 Carrousel Princess.

Miss Price competed for the Carolina's Carrousel Queen's Crown. She represented our school in the Thanksgiving Parade along with forty-four other contestants.

Robin Price is the daughter of Arthur and Linda Price of Hickory. Robin is a member of the Beta Club, Science Honor Society and is the Vice-President of the Anchor Club. Robin is also a member of the varsity cheerleading squad.

ALOHA

May 3, 1985 was a night to remember for everyone, as the Junior class presented "An Evening of Paradise". Students arrived in beautiful formal wear and were given a taste of Hawaii at the Junior-Senior Prom.

The gymnasium was decorated by the Junior class and its sponsors. Tremendous efforts were put forth by all those involved to get the job done on time. The hard work paid off since Foard's gym was transformed into an elegant ballroom making the prom a stunning success. Prom Night 1985 truly was "An Evening of Paradise".

Rita, Kyle, Glenda, and Vickie arrive in glamorous evening wear.

A break from dancing provides time to socialize.

Entertainment was provided by the group "Jump", a band from the Elkin area, and by the Sophomore waiters and waitresses. In keeping with the theme, the waiters and waitresses were dressed in Hawaiian attire including the traditional Hawaiian lei. They sang and danced to the songs "Jungle Love", "All Night Long", and "Some Enchanted Evening". The waiters and waitresses were: Carol Stump, Natalie Wood, Tammie Cooper, Jacinta Byrd, Kelli Eller, Dana Bowman, Kim Osborne, Melanie Seitz, Ginger Teague, Susan Pitts, Gwenna Page, Keith Whaley, Garret Turbyfill, Dax Carter, Mark Bush, Lauri Cano, Darren Blankenship, Vance Stamey and Frank Younce, Chad Francis.

Kellie Counts dances the night away.

GRADUATION '85 . . . IN STYLE

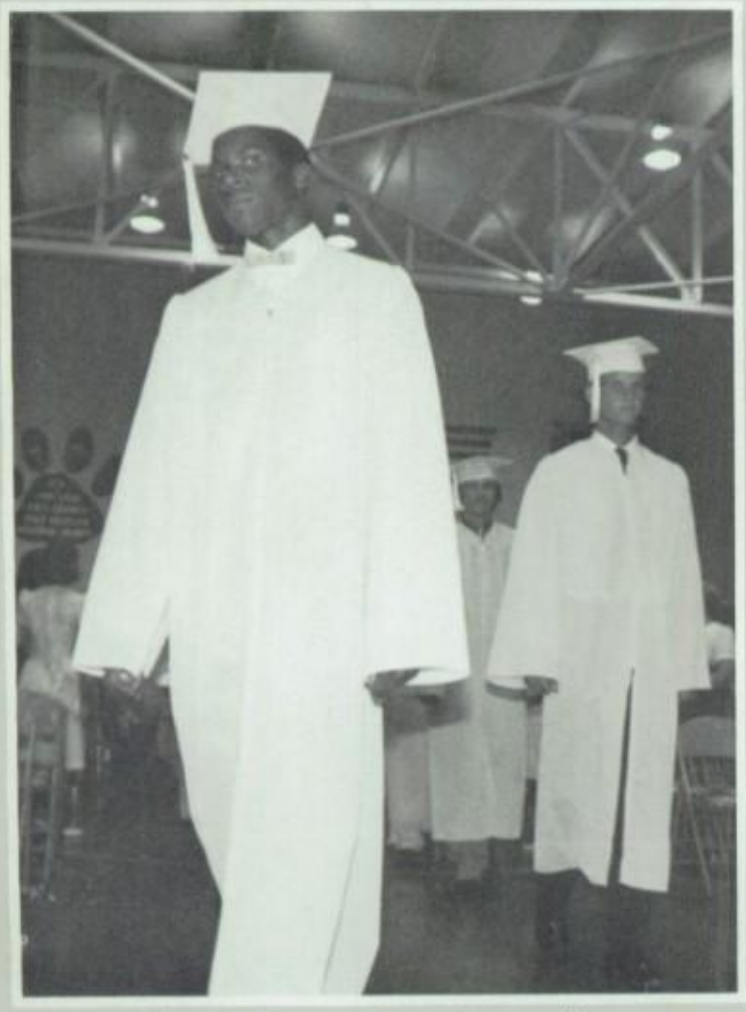
One of the greatest moments in life is graduation from high school. Graduation means many different things. It is the ending of an old life and the beginning of another. It is a step into the new and difficult world of adulthood. It is joy and it is sadness.

It is a time for wonder, not knowing what comes next. These are just some of the feelings that the 1985 graduating class had on June 6, 1985.

The gymnasium was packed with 1500 people, all awaiting the 170 graduates to receive their diplomas. Keith Townsend, valedictorian, and Kris Robinson, salutatorian, gave traditional speeches as the excitement mounted. The Reverend Bill Smith gave the invocation.

After the ceremony was over and all the tears were shed, everyone met for a party and got ready to hit the beach!

The ceremony begins as the graduates march in together for the last time.



Just a few more steps to a new life.

Anticipation and joy are seen on the faces of the '85 graduates.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Mr. Charlie Wyant is hard at work.

Since that late summer day in 1953 when Foard first opened its doors, Mr. Wyant has been here helping the Tigers to achieve their goals. In return for all he has done for the students who have passed through Foard, we extend a hearty "Thanks to Mr. Wyant."

The faculty, which has a passion for excellence, is the driving force behind Tiger success. In both academics and athletics, the faculty always gives them a challenge, and the Tigers always do their best.

WE DEDICATE. . .

Qualities such as contributing to the school and being liked by the students and faculty helped the 1985 Quatra Log Staff decide on the dedication recipient. After careful consideration, the clear winner was Mrs. Carolyn Miller.

A graduate of Fred T. Foard, it has always been Mrs. Miller's desire to teach school. She has been teaching business here for twenty years and at CVTC for fifteen. She received an AB degree in business from Lenior-Rhyne College and a vocational degree from Appalachian State University. She also obtained her Real Estate training at CVTC to become a certified Real Estate Broker. In addition, she has attended Western Carolina University and Mitchell College.

Mrs. Miller teaches Office Occupations I & II, Accounting I this year and has also taught other business courses in previous years. She is the advisor for FBLA. One of her sayings is, "If a job is worth doing, it is worth doing right!"

Outside of school she has many hobbies and interests. She has opened a craft shop, which she owns and manages. She paints and exhibits her arts and crafts in shows. Mrs. Miller loves to spend time with her family. She has one son, Randy, who will be graduating from NCSU in the spring. She also spends lots of time with her registered chows.

Mrs. Miller attends New Jerusalem Lutheran Church where she has played the organ since she was fourteen years old. She is active in choir, plays handbells, and teaches Sunday School.

The 1985-86 yearbook staff proudly dedicates the 1986 Quatra Log to Mrs. Carolyn Miller.

The Student Council represents all the students at FTF. This year's Student Council has been more active than ever. The Council sponsored Foard's 25th Homecoming activities during the football game between East Lincoln and the Tigers on October 25, and a dance immediately following the game.

On November 9-11, the officers and the advisor attended the state Student Council Convention in Asheville.

Each year the Student Council awards 2 scholarships. One scholarship is awarded thru the Christian Children's Fund to pay for the education of a child for an entire year. The other scholarship is awarded to a Senior, who will be attending a four-year college.

Service, leadership, and character define the qualities of a Beta Club member. The Beta Club this year is the biggest ever with 57 members. Three seniors and 28 juniors were inducted on November 7, 1985.

In order to be considered for the Beta Club, students must have a 3.5 grade average and have leadership, honesty, and integrity.

Some of the members attended the District Convention at Bunker Hill High School. Todd Wright and Julie Burgess competed in the talent competition and won first place. The state convention was held in Charlotte in March where Beta Club members voted on the new state officers and learned about other Beta Clubs in North Carolina.

Some other projects that the Beta Club did this year were Christmas caroling with the Tigerettes and French Club, donated gifts to Eastern Catawba Christian Ministries for the needy at Christmas, and adopted a Grandparent.

The club also sponsored the third annual Miss Foard High pageant, and assisted the Key Club in landscaping the courtyards.

With the help of existing Advisor Clifton Scronce, and two new advisors, Cynthia Coulter and Debbie Long, the Beta Club has fulfilled its duty of Service to the community.

The Art Honor Society has existed at Fred T. Foard for three years. It is affiliated through the National Art Education Association. Ms. Susan Whisnant is the art teacher and sponsor of the club. Members must maintain an eighty-five average in art to be in good standing.

This year the Art Honor Society sponsored the Christmas Door Contest, made the archway for Homecoming festivities, and sponsored the spring art show, each of which brings art to the attention of the school and community.

By participating in local art shows, members work toward the attainment of their highest potential in art. At the awards ceremony we recognize students who have shown outstanding ability in art.

A trip to Springfest in Charlotte was enjoyed by all. Experiencing art at the festival increased an awareness of art in relation to our cultural background.

The Tigerettes Club (formerly known as the Anchor Club) is a community service league organization. The club consisted of twenty-four members this year and was advised by Mrs. Lynne Cline and Mrs. Martha Young.

The club was involved in many activities such as contributing toys and books to the social services, sponsoring an "adopt a grandparent" program at a local rest home, and going Christmas caroling. The Tigerettes' largest project takes place just before Christmas. Area elementary schools are contacted by members who in turn receive information concerning children who are in need of clothing. In addition to buying shoes, shirts or coats as are indicated, club members purchase toys to be wrapped and delivered to these same children.

As a part of their Christmas ritual, the Tigerettes had Secret Santa's for the faculty to show their appreciation of Foard's staff. Also, the club had a Secret Pal program within the Club itself. When there ws a tragedy or hospitalization in the student body or faculty, the Tigerettes offered its support with cards, flowers, or food as it was deemed appropriate.

This year's Girls' Athletic Club had it together. The main objective of the club, to give moral and financial support to the girls' teams at Foard, was met. This organization started four years ago under the leadership of Ms. Debbie Long. In past years, it has provided all conference patches for girls that have reached for the stars, medicine kits to keep the girls in top-shape, water bottles to help keep the girls cool during the heated moments of the games, paint supplies for the cheerleaders who are out there every game cheering the girls on to victory, and last, but not least, a feast to help celebrate the girls' victories.

Welcome To The Passion Of Computers

Broadening a person's knowledge of computers in the world and applicating their knowledge of computers for business purposes are some goals of the Computer Club.

The Computer Club meets once a month for planning such activities as "The Dating Game" and a field trip. The field trip is to a college that has a good computer program. The Club planned to go to Appalachian to learn this year.

Mrs. Weeks, the advisor of the club, encouraged all Computer Club members to enter the Apple International Club for computer programming.

Students Against Drunk Driving were very active this year. With a big push from Advisor Gail Stamey, the club made pin-ons for every holiday that sported the slogan, "Friends don't let friends drive drunk!" They also offered to give rides to people who drink at parties during the holidays.

SADD offered an essay contest this year. Many SADD students from area high schools participated. The topic was the dangers of alcohol abuse. Patrilla Sweezy came in first place from Foard. She won $100. Leslie Frye won $50 with her second place entry.

SADD members chapter at Foard had many other activities planned this year including a Readers's Digest $500,000 Don't Drink and Drive college Scholarship Challenge and the State convention in the spring.

Advisor Gail Stamey best summed up the goals of SADD when she said, "We're like anyone, we want to have a good time, and we want others to have a good time, but think about the consequences of drinking and driving."

PASSION PLAYS

This year's Drama Club learned that, to make it to the world of entertainment, mastering the basics is a must. Long before they actually put on a play they had to practice voice control, emotions, pantomime, and memorize numerous script lines. But the hard work paid off and all the plays were great successes. But above all the club learned that there's no business like show business!

The Future Teachers of America is an organization dedicated to the proposition that quality education begins with the teacher. Members of FTA are students who plan to enter into the field of education and are interested in learning more about the career they have chosen. Each FTA member is working an apprenticeship under the guidance of a Foard faculty member, performing tasks for the teacher that are deemed necessary, such as grading papers, designing bulletin boards, averaging grades, stapling tests together and much of the numerous other "paper work" that goes along with the profession.

Each year the FTA sponsors a scholarship for a worthy senior who plans to go into education, and this is awarded at Awards Day. The finale of the Apprenticeship is an elegant banquet for all faculty members and the teacher's aides. This was well attended and enjoyed by all. The three year old organization has progressed admirably to seventeen members strong with two advisors, who are performing their particular passions of teaching and helping others.

Our passion for people is expressed by prayer.

The Bible Club at Fred T. Foard High meets on a regular basis on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in the Time-Out Room with a club member leading devotions and prayer requests. A passion of caring is displayed by this service club whose projects center on helping needy families and providing Christian support for each other and for the school. This year the club made contributions to the United Church Retirement Home, and also collected canned goods and clothes for needy families. The club presented certificates to christian athletes in the various sports at the sports banquets.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Future Farmers of America participated in ten federation contests this year. The contests ranged from Agricultural Mechanics to Dairy Judging. Several individuals and teams from Foard competed on state level. Among these were Brian Leonhardt, who placed in the top six in the state in public speaking.

Foard sent several officers to leadership camp this year. These individuals learned more about the FFA slogan, "Our future is your future." Advisor Kevin Beam remarked, "The Fred T. Foard FFA has a large student involvement and we take part in all available FFA activities and do quite well."

Childcare is a program offered at Foard that teaches students to care for children while at the same time provides a service to the community. "Patience, understanding, and a great love for children are the qualities of a childcare student," says childcare advisor, Ann Bost. Twenty-four children from the surrounding area and sixteen students participated this year.

Many activities were sponsored through childcare this year. Among these were the Halloween dress-up day, a Santa's workshop, a Thanksgiving meal, and a visit to the United Church Retirement Home. Childcare also participated in an activity concerning Vocational Education Week in conjunction with the March of Dimes.

There's more to the Library Club than what meets the eye. The Library Club is still dedicated to exploring the exciting field of library science, but there's more. The Library Club is also a service organization which promotes literary awareness in the school and in the community. The assistants work daily in the library assisting other students in their selection of materials and helping the librarian with the processing of materials and equipment. Library Club members attended the District Conference to learn more about library science and sponsored a field trip for interested students to the Ice Capades in Charlotte.

Being a bus driver is a job that requires much concentration and has many responsibilities. According to Mr. Fuller, bus driving isn't as easy as it looks. "Being a bus driver is completely voluntary. The training consists of written work which must be completed. The book work is a two day session in which he or she is taught about the mechanics of the bus, stopping, and operating the mechanisms. Upon completion of the bookwork, the applicant is given a written test, which he or she must pass, and then he or she must pass the driving test. In order to drive, one must have had a driver's license for six months without any violations."

The responsibilities of the bus drivers, if carried out properly, insures the safe transportation of students. The drivers must transport students from home to school in a safe manner and on schedule. They must attempt to make sure there is good conduct on the buses, file accurate reports, sign in every morning, count the number of students, and file a monthly report of students transported.

Foard's fleet of bus drivers included only three adult drivers; a teacher's aide at Blackburn, a cafeteria worker here at Foard, and the other is not in any other way connected to the schools.

We should all feel fortunate that we have such competent drivers.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE

Eric West, Teresa Hillings, Chris Ruffner

Boys' State and Girls' State are summer programs designed to help rising high school seniors learn more about state government. Nineteen eighty-five was a very good year for Foard's delegates in the programs. Teresa Hillings received the Ione Mann award for her outstanding performance in the Girls' State conference. Chris Ruffner and Eric West also did very well at Boys' State.

During the course of the program the students set up mock governments in order to learn exactly how the state runs and what it takes to make it run smoothly. They also heard many government officials speak of state government. Some speakers were Governor Jim Martin and Attorney General Lacy Thornburg.

The eighteen Junior Marshals assisted in graduation ceremonies last June. They handed out programs and assisted in the seating of the graduates and guests.

The Junior Marshals are chosen from the Junior Class, and these students must have a grade point average of 3.85 or higher.

GOVERNOR'S SCHOOL

Michaele Leatherman, Teresa Hillings

Teresa Hillings and Michaele Leatherman were this year's candidates to governor's school. Governor's School is a six week summer program designed to enhance the abilities of gifted students.

Teresa Hillings attended Governor's School West, at Wake Forest University and studied the social sciences. Michaele Leatherman attended Governor's School East at St. Andrew's College and studied art. Both girls agree that it was an experience of a life-time!

The object of the annual staff is to capture and share those wonderful memories of high school. We have tried this year to give you a book of memories that will preserve the 1985-1986 school year for the rest of your life. So if, as you turn the pages, you smile as you remember past events, our goal has been reached.

Work on the annual staff begins early in the summer as the students sell ads to local businesses. While in school they work hard to put together the best yearbook possible and meet all deadlines. The job includes taking pictures of school functions, writing copy, designing, layouts, and selling and delivering yearbooks. It is a task that takes time, patience, and creativity, but when the books return, the pride and satisfaction overshadow the hard work.

Checking layout is a tedious process.

FOARDONIAN

Vol. 23, No. 3 Fred T. Foard High School December, 1985

Newton, NC

Mrs. Cline has been advisor to the Newspaper Staff for seven years.

The FOARDONIAN staff is responsible for the reporting, typing, and printing of the school's newspaper. The staff prints and sells six to seven issues each school year.

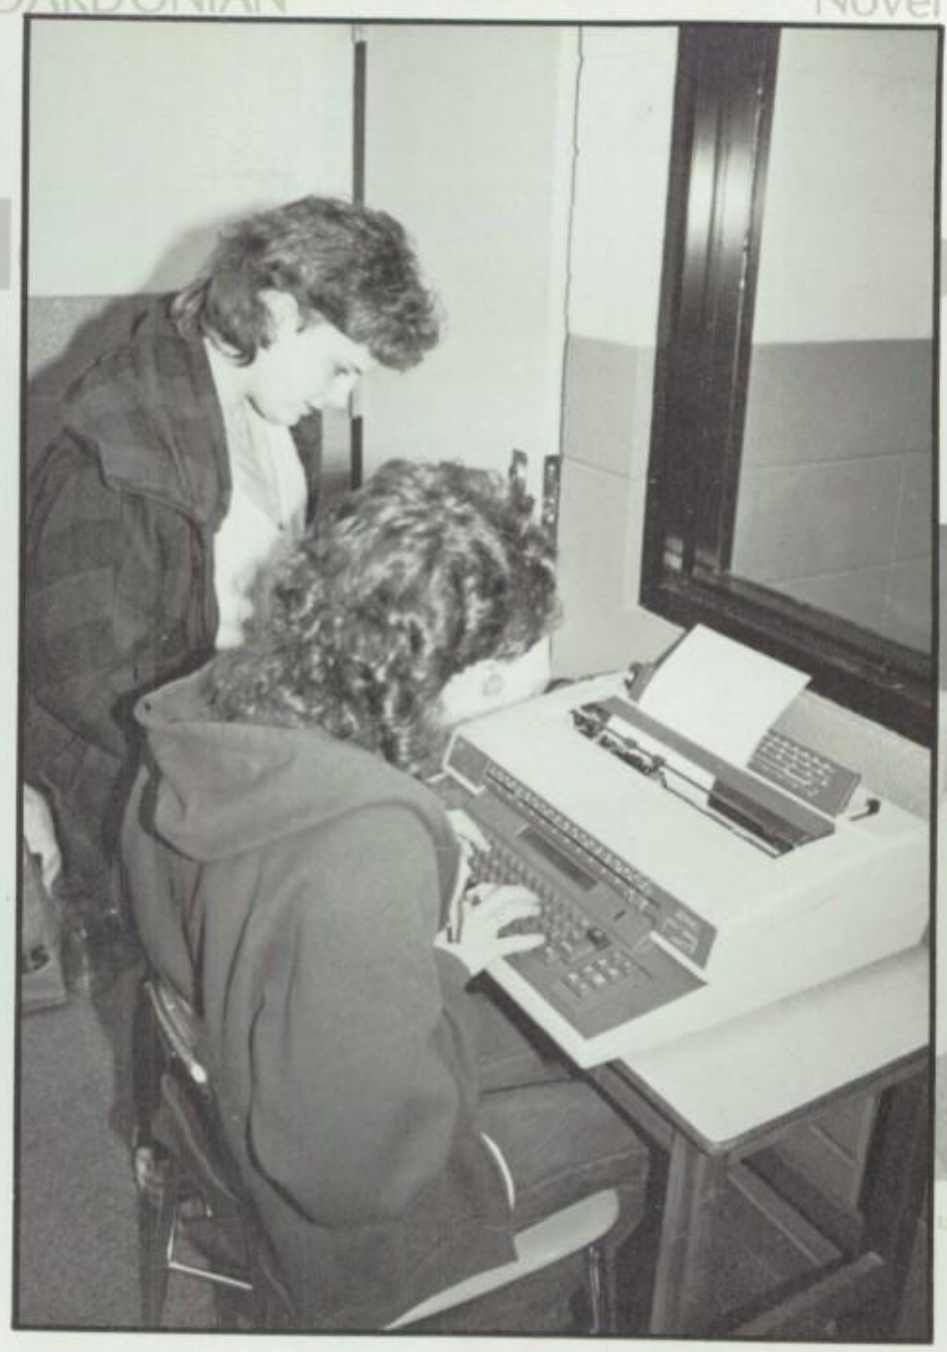
The first issue features new faculty and staff members as well as senior fall athletes. A second publication is a homecoming exclusive, highlighting the week of homecoming here at Foard. In addition to reporting school news, features, and sports, the December issue allows students' to send holiday greetings to one another. February's issue continues the coverage of school news as well as provides for the sending of a Val-a-gram to other students. A final issue is dedicated largely to seniors as it contains the seniors' Last Will and Testament, Class Prophesy, and candid snapshots of years gone by.

Throughout the year recognition is given to senior athletes, band members, cheerleaders and bus drivers in the various issues.

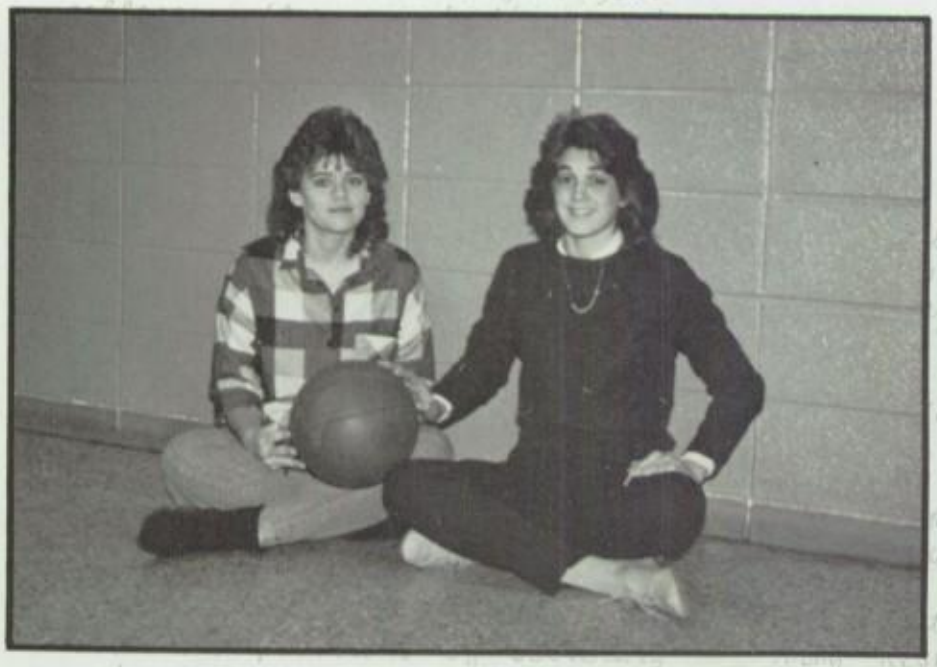
There is no student who holds the position of editor all year. Two students are paired off to serve as co-editors for a particular issue. This produces a sense of shared importance among the staff as well as creates a special interest and pride in the issue that the student has served as co-editor.

The FOARDONIAN staff participates in a newspaper exchange with the other county high schools as well as those in other counties. The class is responsible for writing a weekly column containing school news coverage for THE HICKORY DAILY RECORD. The class demands cooperation among the members as well as writing skill and a sense of responsibility and professionalism.

It takes a lot of effort from everyone to put the newspaper together.

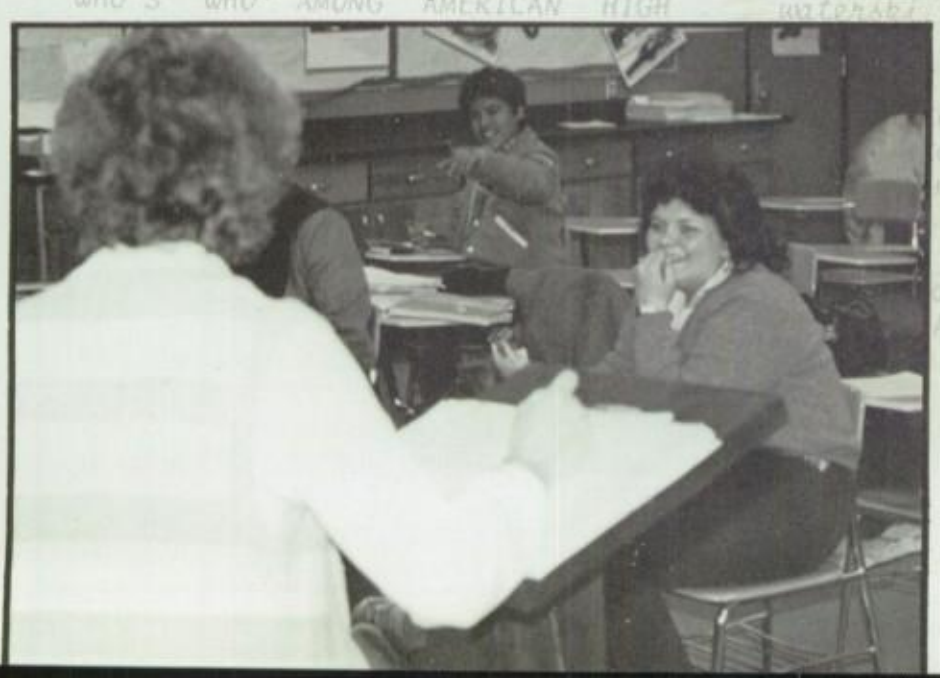


Lynne Barnes and Amy Burris work very hard as staff typists.



Linda Ward and Tammie Bohemier are staff sports editors.

Staff photographers Dedra Whitener and Lauri Cano — always picture perfect.



It isn't all work and no play.

A PASSION FOR KNOWLEDGE

Nineteen-eighty-six was a year of new challenges for Foard's Quiz Bowl and High-Q teams. Foard, the defending champion, was first runner up in the County Quiz Bowl. The team consisted of Teresa Hillings, Todd Childers, Eric West, and Tra Watson.

In the High-Q competition, which is sponsored by Central Piedmont Community College, Foard placed twenty-second out of sixty-two teams from all across North Carolina. The team was able to improve their score by over 600 points from 1985's score. Tra Watson, Todd Childers, Mark Beard, and Kelly Teague made up the High-Q team.

FORENSICS

Foard's 1985-86 chapter of the National Forensics league was bigger and better than ever. The team consisted of 14 members, who participated in policy debate, Student Congress, prose-poetry reading, and humorous interpretation. The team won several awards for excellent performances.

The main objective of the Forensics team is to gain self-confidence and to learn to speak effectively. Thanks to the efforts of all the team members and Coach, Glenda Hall, these goals were achieved.

Amy Hamm participated in prose-poetry reading.

A passion for music is fulfilled easily in many of F.T.F.'s courses. One such class is chorus. In this course, many facets of singing performance are studied and learned. All chorus students have learned the art of correct breathing, correct articulation, and the basics of music. The 67 members of this group have performed many times including a Christmas concert on December 18, 1985. Among all of the members of chorus, a few were selected to Mars Hill. These include: Julie Burgess, Shannon Harwell, Leroy Herman, Jody Parish, Jimmy Pittman and Todd Wright. This was an experience which will be thought of and remembered along with the many other fun times in chorus.

Julie and Todd use learned skills to perform in talent show.

Shannon displays multi-talent of singing and playing the piano.

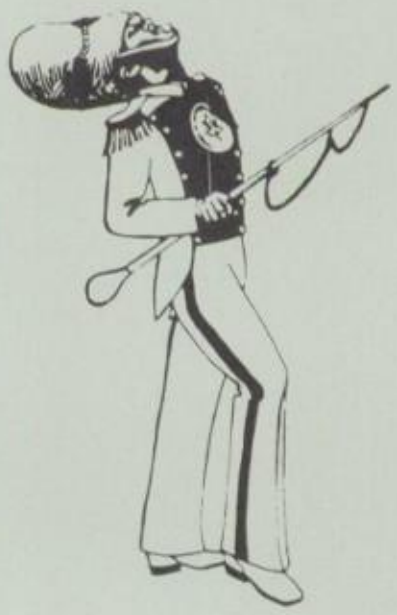
The band plays at Homecoming.

Another hard day of practice.



The Fred T. Foard Tiger Band had difficulty pursuing their particular passions this year as they were left without a band teacher for a month at the first of the 1985-1986 school year. But, the band marched on with the help of the band boosters and various substitute conductors, until the position of band director was filled with Ms. Cindy McGee. Ms. McGee and the Tiger Band performed to the satisfaction and pleasure of Foard's fans and visitors during football games, local parades, and a Christmas concert. The seventy member band proudly represented their school, displaying their passion for performing wherever they were.

BRICKLAYERS

A brick Christmas tree? Yes, the bricklayers under Advisor Jack Bost built a brick Christmas tree this year. They learned to mix mortar and lay bricks to make strong walls. The bricklayers built a block building on Highway 127 to be used as a cabinet shop.

Mr. Bost assigns two helpers each day to mix the mortar and to help clean up. The students build walls and tear them down everyday in order to perfect their skills. "We had a good class and accomplished much," said Mr. Bost, "our Seniors did a good job putting up the building on 127."

"This was a very good season for the Tigers. We were 4-1 in conference play and 7-3 for the regular season. We also got into the state playoffs for the fourth time in the last 5 seasons," commented Head Coach Dick Foster.

Our first year in a IIIA conference proved to be a good one. With the help of All Conference Players Verdel Ellis and Benji Sykes on the offense and Keith Shook, Joel Jackson, Robert Smith, and John Forbes on defense, Foard played an exciting and winning season of football.

Keith Shook was named "Player of The Week" and he was given the "Golden Helmet Award." This Award is given by WNNC Radio for the most outstanding play by a local high school player. Also, Jay Jackson was given Fred T. Foard's "Golden Helmet Award" for being the Tigers' Most Valuable Player.

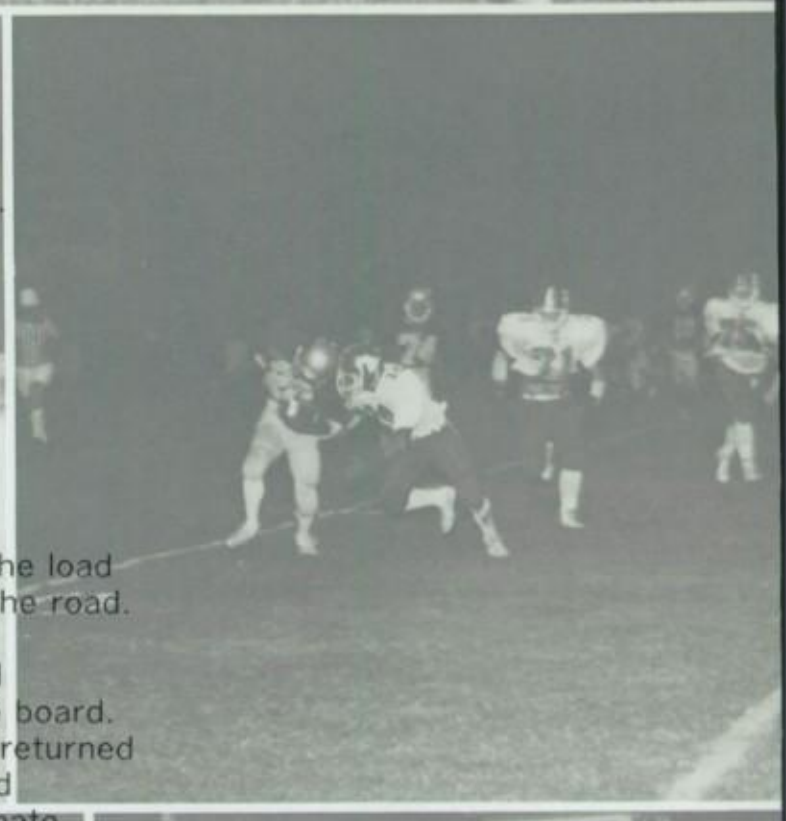
THE TIGER TALES

(with apologies to Geoffrey Chaucer)

When in August the heat of summer bakes
The earth, and many a vacationer takes
To the beach, but not those dedicated men
Who have that burning desire to win,
Through days of sweat and toil
While the sun continued to boil,
That Tiger fightin' machine grew stronger
So that memories of last season no longer
Cast a thundercloud of doubt
And made even the weakhearted grow stout.

Moved up a notch to 3-A classification,
The Tigers needed no verification
That contenders they would be and nix
Anyone else's hopes of winning the Big Six.
So for weeks on end the team ran plays
In preparation for those game days
When each Tiger would be put to the test
To prove his team was really the best.
Each coach and player was willing to carry the load
As the season began against Cherryville on the road.



By making great passes, the Ironmen scored 35 points, while the Tigers only put 6 on the board.
But next week was different when the team returned
To Tiger Stadium, for those guys had learned
That losing was something you could easily hate.
That explains the score: Fred T. Foard, 33; Maiden, 8.
On Friday the 13th, some choose to stay out of sight,
But the Tigers traveled to the Hill on that chilly night.
It proved not to be a match made in heaven,
For the Tigers were defeated 48 to 27.
This was much more than this team could bear
And made a solemn vow that they would no longer wear
The face of defeat. And so, with the exception of two,
Those fightin' Tigers in the white and blue
Were victorious in all of their battles fought.
The thrill of victory to themselves and their fans
And, through strength and cunning, destroyed the plans
Of opponents like the Bandys Trojans and West Lincoln Rebels.
With scores of 34-21 and 21-14, the Tigers bedeviled
Those men who couldn't make a decision
About whom to pick for Thursday's edition
Of the Hickory Daily Record's "Fearless Forecast."
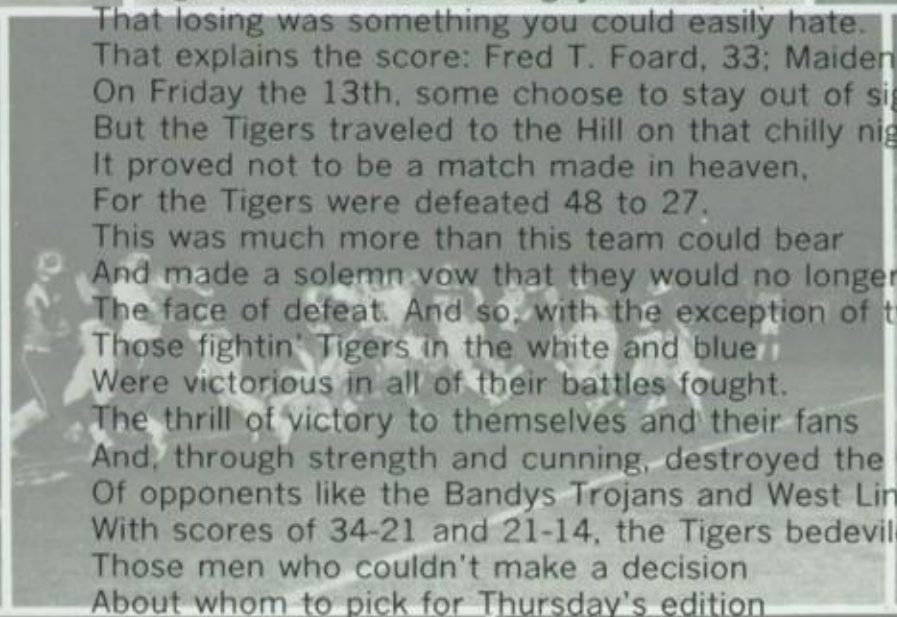
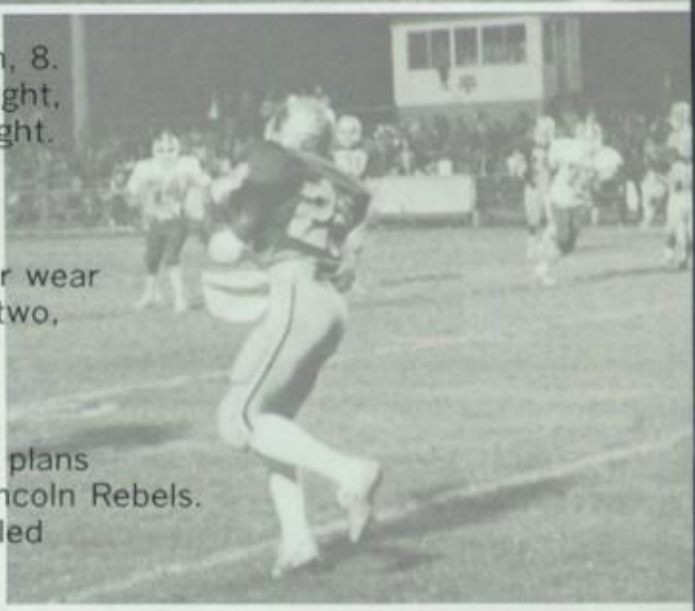
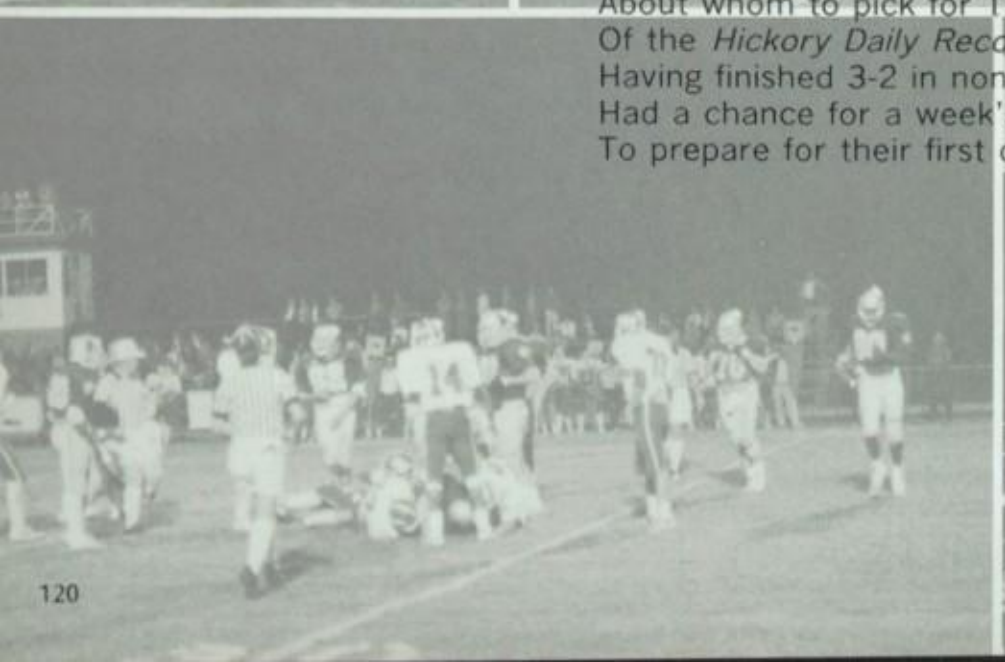
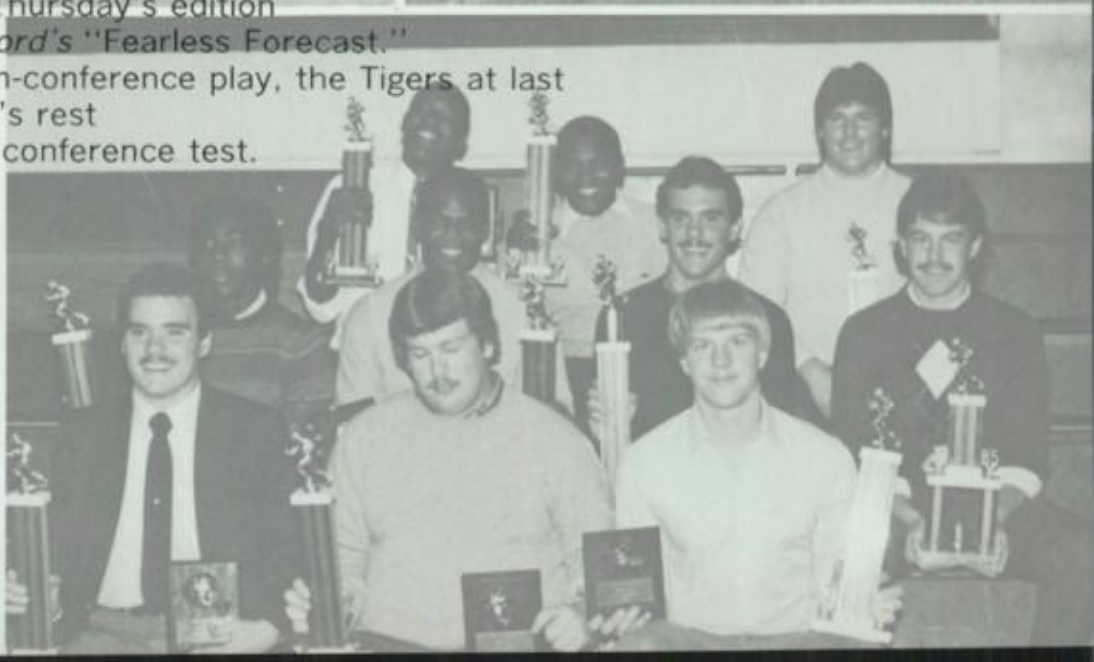
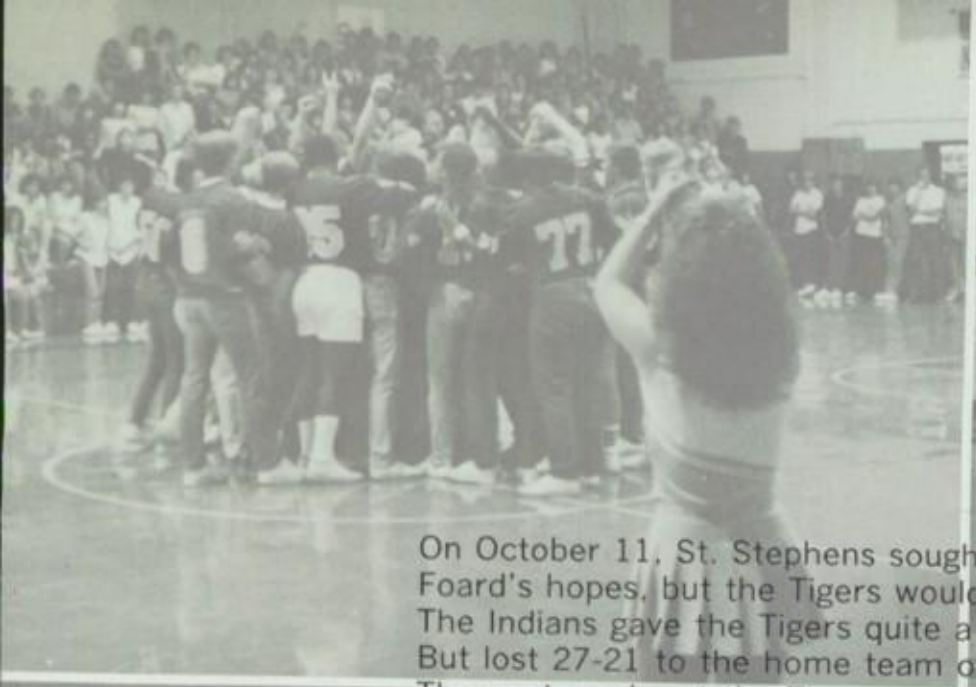
Having finished 3-2 in non-conference play, the Tigers at last
Had a chance for a week's rest
To prepare for their first conference test.



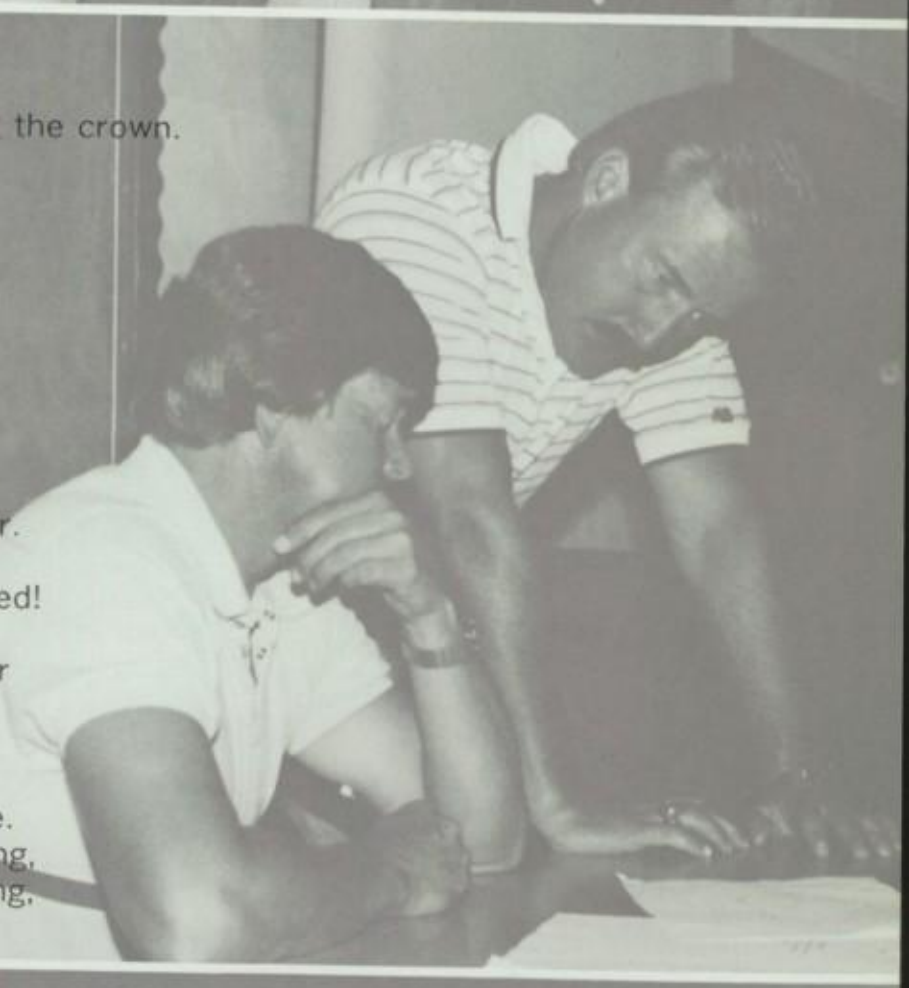








On October 11, St. Stephens sought to end
Foard's hopes, but the Tigers wouldn't bend.
The Indians gave the Tigers quite a fight,
But lost 27-21 to the home team on that night.
The next week put the Tigers on the road again
Battling the Hibriten Panthers to a 27-14 win.
Homecoming Week brought East Lincoln to town,
And the Tigers improved their chances of winning the crown.
Those Mustangs resisted the bit and the saddle.
Not easily tamed, they gave quite a battle.
Scoring 21 points was for them just fine,
But the Tigers were too much and scored 29.



All Saints' Day is for many a time to give thanks,
But when playing a team that a newspaper ranks
As number one in the state in the class of 3-A,
A team must be prepared to go all the way.
The team practiced all week long in a downpour.
When Friday came, a postponement was called for.
The conditions were poor; the rain wouldn't stop.
And how many times would that pigskin be dropped!
48 minutes later, although it seemed longer,
The score showed that the Warriors were stronger
That night than those hapless Tigers who lay
In mud-soaked pants that used to be gray.
Because that game was lost by a 13-0 score,
Hopes of winning the Big Six Crown were no more.
But those Tigers bounced back and came on strong,
And when the fat lady had finished singing her song,
The scoreboard revealed the victorious team —
Fred T. Foard Tigers, 30; Lincolnton Wolves, 15.

A week left to go in the '85 season,
And neither player nor coach could find any reason
Why the Tigers could not be the great terminators
Who could end for the year the North Iredell Raiders'
Intentions of being the state 3-A champs.
Playoff fever was running high in the camps
Of the Tigers and Raiders as they plotted and planned.
Everyone was poised for action — the players, cheerleaders and band.
Although the Tigers were much bigger, North Iredell was the hero.
Fred T. Foard was defeated by the score of 25 to zero.

No more tackles or touchdowns to be made,
And when memories of the season begin to fade
Away, I hope this tribute will make you proud
Of giving your all and not being just one of the crowd.

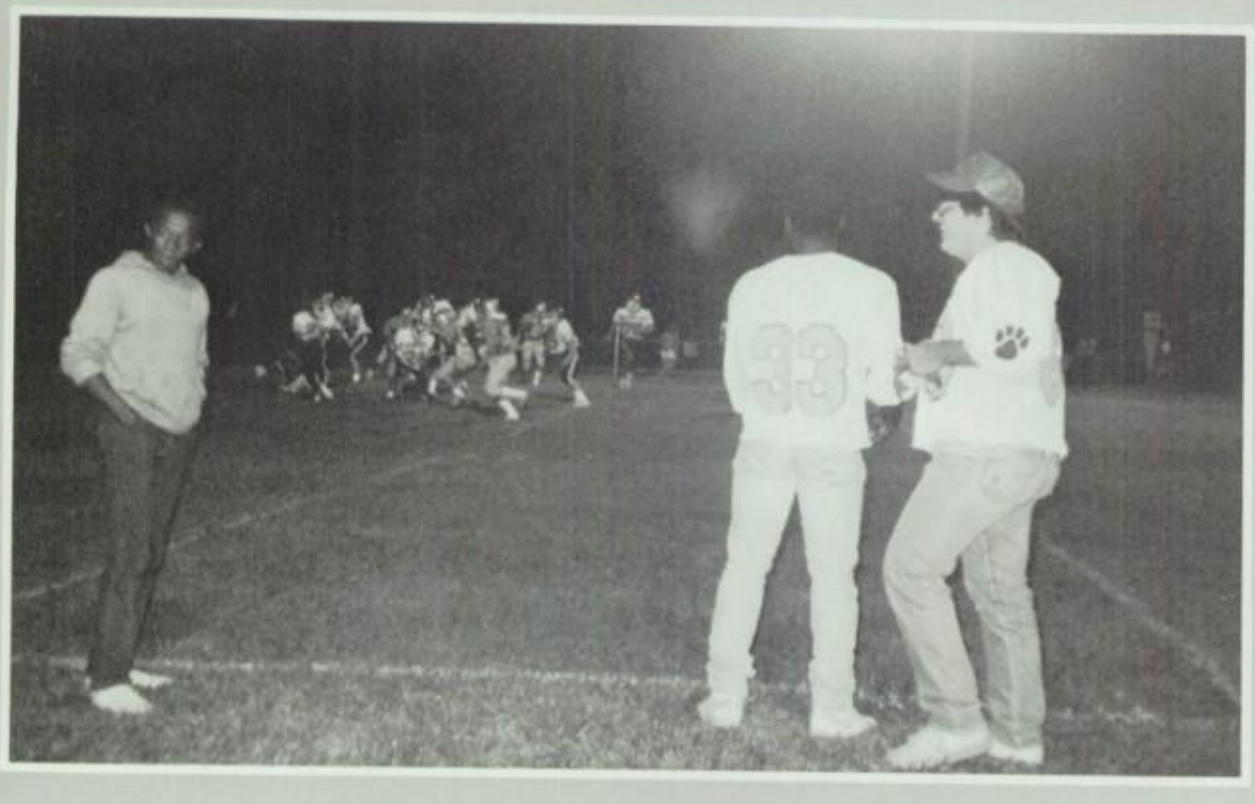
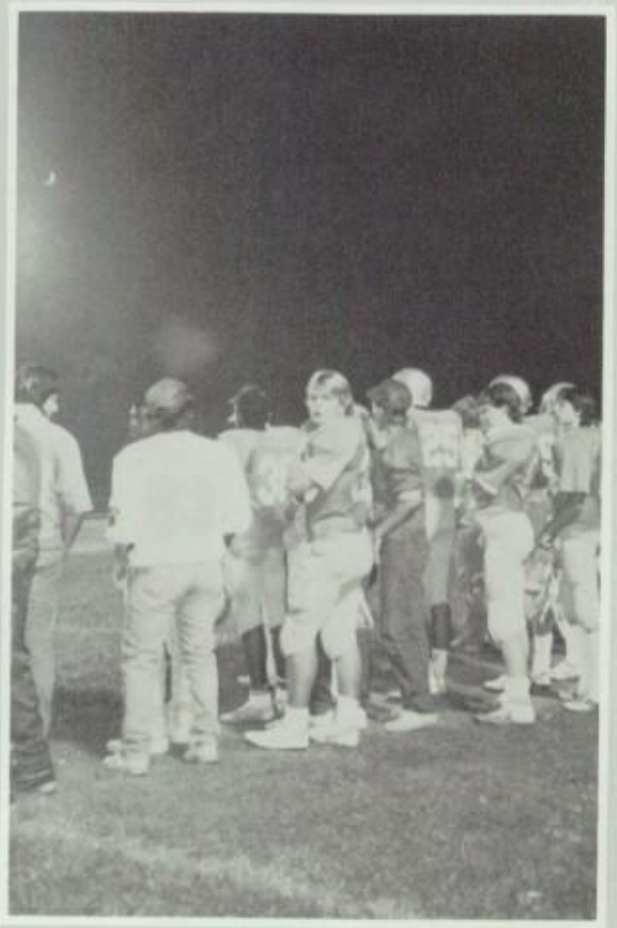
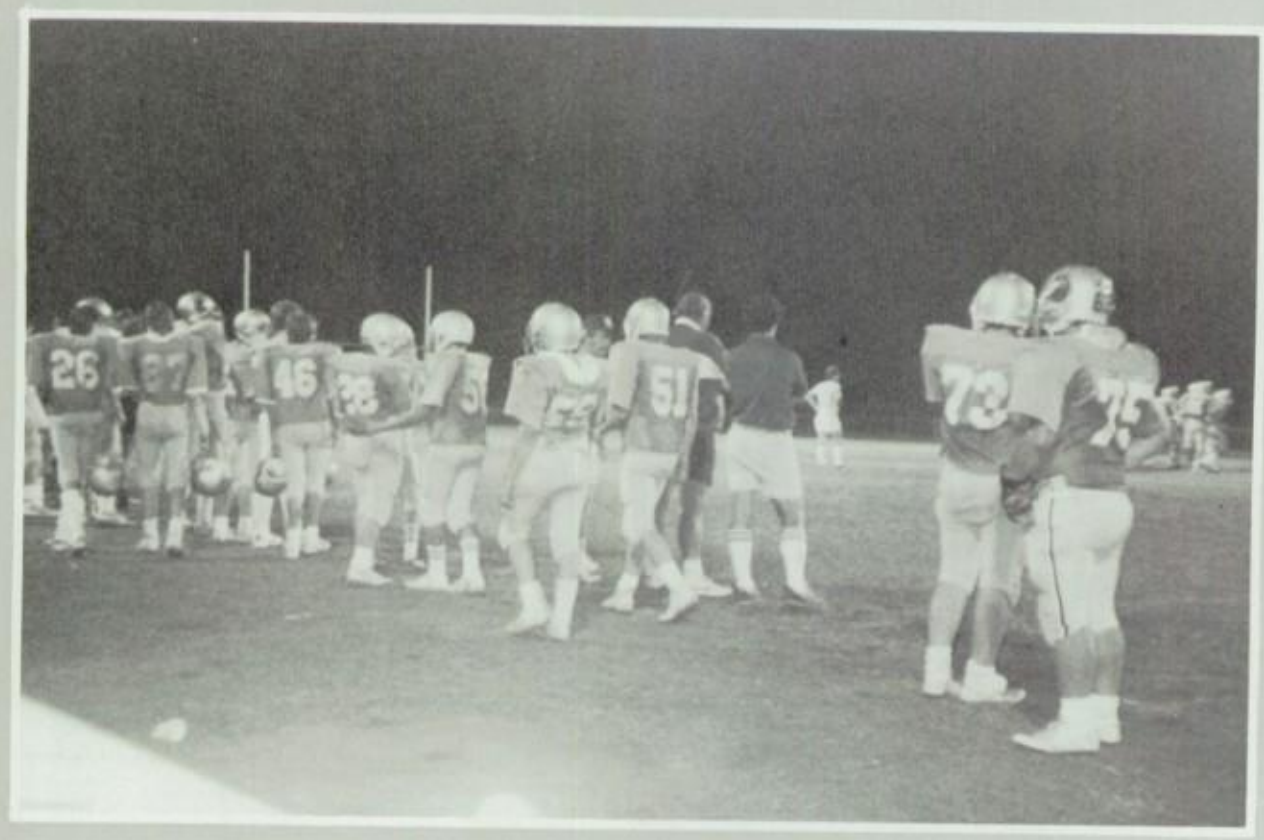
JV TIGER FOOTBALL



Varsity players awaiting outcome on the sidelines.

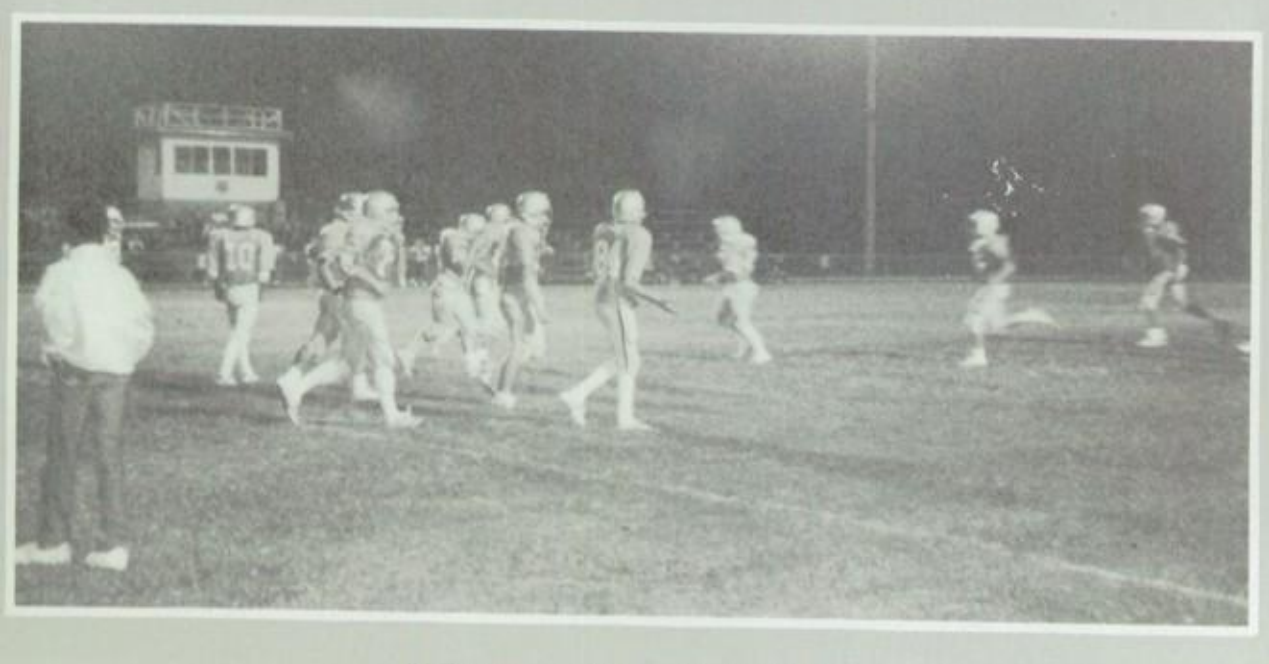


Jeff Hamilton and others await their return to the field.



Discussing it on the sidelines.

Though the JV Tigers practiced hard and showed lots of determination, this didn't prove enough against their opponents. 1985 was a disappointing season for the Junior Varsity team, since the season ended with a 0-9 record. There were many exciting plays and even very close games; however, the other team always seemed to prevail. 1986 is going to be a hopeful season for the JV Tigers, because experience put a glare of passion in their eyes.



JV Tigers . . . doing it with a passion.

The "good luck"look.

A lust for victory.

Tra Watson takes the lead.

This year's Girls' Cross-Country team showed that it's the quality, not the quantity that makes a winning team. They showed that even though there were few of them, they were going to give it their all, and they did. The team was dedicated to the sport of running and to the other teammates. Even though the girls didn't always come out on top, the friendships made and the experience gained will last a lifetime.

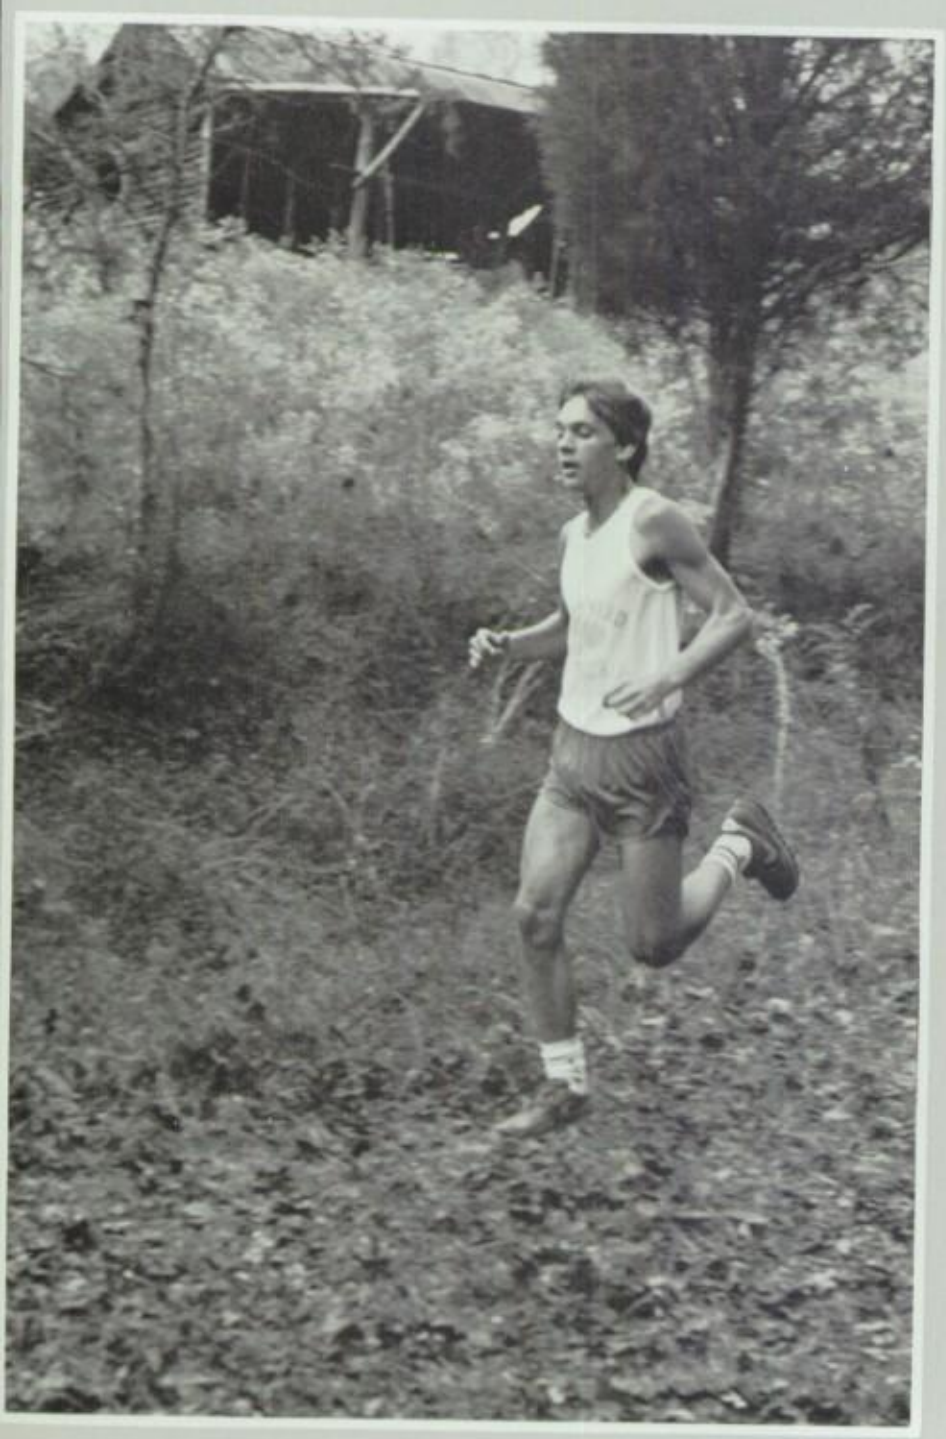
CROSS COUNTRY

LADIES AND MEN



Great endurance is required to all cross country runners.

Heather Wilkerson takes off.

This year's Boys' Cross-Country team showed that they meant business. Running requires patience, perseverence, and a passion for feeling the wind beneath your feet. It means never giving up even when all odds are against you. It means getting out everyday — warm, cool, rain, or shine. It's a passion for victory that makes you push just a little bit harder to make it to the finish before everyone else does. These qualities are exemplified by such top runners as Tra Watson and Jeff Wyant.

LADYS' LIFE SINGLES &

"The goals of the team, to improve skills individually and as a team, were definitely achieved this year", commented Coach Barbara Hoyle.

Excitement came when the girls played Hibriton. The tigers played well, but were beaten 5 — 4 both times.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER, Kim Strawser, advanced to the singles quarterfinals in Asheville. Also, the duo of Tamara Bolen and Elizabeth Holliday advanced to the doubles in the regionals, but were defeated in the second round.

Hard driving ambition kept the Tigers going strong in the Big-Six Conference this year. Their determination to make a lasting impression on the new conference led them to many exciting games. Their record of 9 wins and 11 loses does not reflect the talent and potential that Mr. Copas has captured in this Tiger team. A great number of their games were lost by a small margin.

The outlook for next season is fairly good for the Tigers. The upcoming young players will gain more and more experience and will be able to fill the shoes of the five skilled seniors who will be lost.

Overall, they played hard and gave us a team to be proud of. Their passion to win pushed the Tigers to perform their best in a higher conference this year.

Lady Tigers

The 1985-1986 basketball season began early for the Lady Tigers, during summer vacation, as 8 squad members attended team camp at Elon College in late July. The week of eating, sleeping, dreaming, and talking basketball was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Every player worked hard to improve, and as the group traveled home, each individual had gained some confidence, in addition to sore muscles. Although small in numbers with only 10 members on the team, and smaller in size than most opponents, the Foard team made a big impression during their first year in the new conference. With the exception of defending State 3-A Champions West Caldwell, each opponent fell to the Lady Tigers at least once. And when conference play had ended, the Foard Lady Tigers had posted a record of 7 wins against 3 losses, finishing in second place behind West Caldwell. In conference play, the Lady Tigers averaged 54 points per game.

Dana fights for a rebound.

The long awaited season officially began on November 1, with much enthusiasm and desire for success being evident. The Lady Tigers got off to a fine start with big wins over West Lincoln and Bunker Hill. The non-conference schedule included old rivals from the 2A SD-7 conference, as well as 4-A opponents. At the end of the non-confernece round, the Lady Tigers were disappointed with a 5-5 record, that included a 2 point loss to East Burke, as well as 3 other losses by 5 points or less.

But their "never say die" attitude prevailed as they began the season in the newly formed Big Six 3-A conference. The Lady Tigers exemplified all the characteristics of WINNERS playing each game with character, desire, and dignity. Returning the entire starting line up from the previous year, the Lady Tigers left their mark on each opponent.

The 1985-86 basketball season was a success in many ways for the Lady Tigers. Not only did they post an impressive win-loss record, but each player maintained a positive, wholesome attitude throughout the season. Many new friends were made, and each new opponent can attest to the fine sportmanship of the Lady Tigers.

The future looks bright, with only two seniors on this year's team. And as the season ended, enthusiasm was already building for next year. A conference championship in 1987?

Michelle sinks two.

WHEN THE GOING GETS TOUGH

"We had many close calls and exciting games this year," said coach Nelson Watts. "A great group of young men played hard and hustled even when they were behind. Everyone had fun as the Tigers strived to win every game."

Excitement was the main emotion as the boys played in about eight games that were decided by five points or less. They did a great job in seven overtime periods, only losing once.

Many of the team members learned that working hard and not getting discouraged were the key elements to winning a game. When they lost some close games, the Tigers learned that to win, they must have teamwork, because teamwork provided more opportunities to score. We should share their passion to win in years to come.

This year's J.V. girls' basketball team is something to really be proud of. They worked together as a team, on the court and off. When the game was won it was the team that won, and when the J.V.'s had an occasional loss, it was the team that lost, not any one certain person. As a coach, Ms. Richards expected much from her girls, and that's just what she received. In closing, a quote from the coach, "My girls gave me their all. One-hundred percent of the time. I couldn't really ask for more than they've already given."

The girls themselves had a passion to win. They used this chant over and over again: "The good, better, best, we never let it rest 'til the good become better and the better become the best!"

Hard work and dedication paid off as Foard's track team continued its winning tradition by taking second in the II A conference this year.

The two strongest runners were Tra Watson, who received the High Point Scorer, and Jimmy Poovey, the Most Valuable Player recipient.

"I thought we performed as well as we could. We achieved our potential," commented Coach Alan Sigmon.

BOYS' TENNIS
THEY LOVE IT!

Tennis, one of America's favorite sports, is an eagerly awaited part of the Fred T. Foard sports season.

The 1984-85 tennis team has accomplished many things. A great asset to the success was the experience of Matt Wilson and Stefan Lampert. They helped in accomplishing the victory against St. Stephens, which was one of the most exciting games all year.

The year's excitement was topped off by the athletic banquet. Many tennis awards were given, including the Most Valuable Player award, given to Matt Wilson and Stefan Lampert. The Best All Around and Christian Athletic Award was presented to Jimmy Sherrill. The Most Improved went to Stefan Lampert while Todd Strawser got the Sportsmanship award. Congratulations go to everyone on the team for a good season.

Marc Klappert guns the opponent down.

In the words of Coach T.M. Rembert, "The two most important factors on the team are leadership from our sophomores and team spirit from everyone."

With several returning sophomores, team leadership roles were taken by the captains of the team, Rodney Stallings and Scott Hunt. Team spirit was high in many exciting games.

Although the team's record was only 6 wins and 8 loses, this did not reflect the attitude and determination shown throughout the season.

PUTTIN' ON THE HITS

Hope was high for the Tiger baseball team this season.The Tigers were a strong team with key defense from Chad Kanipe and Jeff Melton and great hitting from Mark Ford. Fate can take away the glory as the Tigers lost six games by only a few runs. The final record for the varsity team was ten wins and nine losses.

All-Conference honors went to first-baseman-short stop, Chad Kanipe and catcher-pitcher, Charles Blachnik.

Coach Jerry Copas remarked about his team, "We had a tremendous team last year. Things didn't fall in place as we thought they would. The year before we made it to the state playoffs and we should have made it again, but things just didn't work out."

Front row: Tim Sherrill, Joe Brindle, Jeff Melton, Darren Schmidt, Coach Jerry Copas. Second Row: Chad Kanipe, Eric Huffman, Charles Blachnik, Greg Davis. Back Row: Jay Jackson, Phuc Nguyen, Brian Lutz, Joel Jackson, Jeff Kiziah.

GOLF . . .
A PASSION FOR PAR

Fred T. Foard is proud of its golf players this year. The team continued the winning record and placed second in the SD-7 conference.

Top player Ronnie Dietz, who finished second in the conference last year, finished the season with the title of conference champioin. Dietz said, "I played very good golf and was really pleased." Coach Nelson Howard agreed saying that Dietz had a "tremendous year."

The players said they enjoyed golf and enjoyed being around each other, although it is more of an individual sport. "You play against one man, but team scores is what counts," said player Clay Starnes.

Coach Howard hopes to keep on winning as the school grows and enters tougher conferences.

DURING SOFTBALL GAMES

"This softball season was fun. The players were great. We were all friends and that made us work together as a team. I loved it.", said senior Paula Dickinson.

Nineteen-eighty five was another good year for Tiger softball. Compiling an overall record of eight wins and seven losses, the team was able to pull out a mid-season slump and rack up a winning season.

The Spring Athletic Banquet was very rewarding for a number of players. Tara Brown received the Best Defensive Player award, Janet Hicks received the Best Offensive award, and Paula Dickinson received the prestigious Team Before Self award. A new award, Most Coachable, was given to Cynthia Lawrence. The Bible Club presented it's Christian Athlete Award to Michaele Leatherman.

Tara Brown and Janet Hicks were named All Conference for Fred T. Foard. Coach Barbara Hoyle, who feels very good about the '85 season accomplishments, hopes to go even further next year.

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad of 1985-86 started out with many new faces and personalities. But the nine Seniors, two Juniors, and two Sophomores soon learned to utilize these differences and work together to create routines and cheers full of excitement and creativity.

The girls got the opportunity this year to watch new squads in the Big Six Conference. They picked up new ideas and techniques for better cheering. Despite the bigger conference, the girls still enjoyed the competitive spirit of cheering against rival SD-7 squads in nonconference play.

The Varsity squad began the long year of work in April after tryouts. Throughout the summer the group worked to create and perfect routines for the CSC camp held in August at Appalachian State University. As the week ended, the girls returned with one blue and two red ribbons and a spirit stick.

As school resumed, the busy schedule of homework, practice, and football games began. With much dedication, the cheerleaders supported the team, even in the drenching downpour that night against West Caldwell. With a late start, practice began for the Valley Hills Cheerwine Cheeroff only weeks before the competition. The excitement of competition mixed with nervousness led the Varsity squad to a spectacular performance and a third place title.

Various other activities were held during the year including fund raisers, parades, and pep rallies. Later in the year basketball season brought games twice a week as well as practice once a week. Despite this busy schedule the girls next concern became the competition at Carowinds. The girls traveled to the amusement park in March to compete against many squads from North and South Carolina.

The J.V. cheerleaders went to camp over the summer at ASU and won a red ribbon and two blue ones for their performances which qualified them to compete in a final competition. This squad cheers for J.V. football and basketball, and helps the Varsity Cheerleaders at pep rallys.

Excitement filled the air when David Abernathy, the magazine representative, came to Foard. Prizes and cash provoked many students to participate in the drive. Our goal of $20,000 was achieved with our grand total of $23,200. The top homeroom was Mrs. Barry's homeroom, and they were treated to pizza at Godfather's Pizza for this achievement. The top salespersons were Kim Strawser, Aaron Bowman, and Leslie Frye.

The finale of the sale was a cash prize round-up in the gym in which every person who sold five magazines was asked to attend.

Juniors were encouraged to sell at least three magazines each. Every Junior who sold at least three was allowed to attend the Junior-Senior Prom free. All of the profits from the Junior Class sales were used for the decorations, refreshments, and the music for the prom.

The magazine captains were responsible for collecting the money each day and kept a balanced report of his or her homeroom.

Foard's 1985 Talent Show was a stunning success. Sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Club, this year's talent show featured fourteen entries of Foard's most talented students. Crystal Davis was the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Prizes were awarded in two categories, vocal and instrumentals, and a grand prize was awarded for overall excellence. Dominating the instrumental category was the Strawser family. Todd and Kim Strawser placed first and second, respectively. In the vocalist category, Jacinta Byrd won first place for her performance of "Against All Odds." Second place went to the duet of Jody Parrish and Amy Weaver and the third place winner was the rock band Midpoint. The duet of Todd Wright and Julie Burgess won the grand prize for a heartwarming performance of "God Bless the USA" and "More Than Wonderful."

Thanks to the dedication and hard work of the Girls' Athletic Club and all the participants, the Talent Show proved to be an evening well spent!

On April 6, 1985, 19 students and 4 chaparones left for a journey to France. Their first destination was Paris. Then they went on to Tours. From there they traveled to Monaco where they visited the beautiful Monte Carlo. They continued their expedition in Nice. While in Nice they enjoyed scenic beaches and other memorable sights. The last stop was Geneva. Then came the moment they all dreaded, the trip had to come to an end.

Some students preferred the lovely French Riviera. Others favored the fabulous scenery of Paris. But everyone agrees that it was an experience they will never forget.

EDITOR'S NOTES

As the school year draws to a close I look back over my past four years with fondness. I have always felt that I would cherish those moments and place them safely away for future years. With this in mind, my goal for the yearbook has been to capture and preserve those moments in the best way possible. The entire staff has worked diligently to create a reproduction of the past year with pictures and words that tie it all together. And when the work is finished and the final product is distributed, the pride and happiness burst forth in each individual who contributed to the project.

These precious memories would be nothing without one's friends. I would like to take this opportunity now to thank all of my friends and the faculty for making my years at Foard the best they could be. A special thanks goes to Vickie for always sticking by me and helping me with the putting together of the yearbook, and also to Mrs. Young and Mrs. Huffman for all of their time, hard work, and most of all moral support.

In closing, I would like to wish the Class of 1986 the best in everything. We finally made it! And to those returning students, enjoy your time at school — it is all over before you know it.

Rita Fulbright

1985-86 has been a year to remember and I hope our yearbook has helped you to recall it with fondness. We chose PASSIONS as our theme because it conveys many deep felt emotions. Throughout this year we endured many good times and a lot of bad times too. The good times gave us joy and the bad experiences only made us stronger and drew us together as we never had been before.

Our goal in putting together this yearbook was so that when it was finished you could look back at these moments, frozen in motion, that otherwise might have been forgotten; the jokes, fights, laughs, and the tears.

We couldn't have achieved this goal without the Annual Staff, who were willing to work hard in class and even gave up a lot of their own free time. Our advisors this year, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Huffman, made it all possible. They helped keep us all together when things began to get out of hand and they were always there to offer their endless support. My biggest gratitude is to Rita. We were worried it might strain our friendship working so close together on something so important but we stuck together and we always will. You made working on the annual fun and I couldn't have done it without you. You are one of the best. Thanks for all the help and support.

Also without my friends it couldn't have happened. Friends who understood I couldn't let out the secrets of what would be inside no matter what they threatened if I didn't tell — they didn't because they understood the position. I hope it was worth the suspense.

To the seniors especially we wanted the yearbook to be special because this was our last year of being together because now we will all go our separate ways — on to our futures, whatever they hold. The Class of '86 — we're on our way and I know we will all seek and find our own particular PASSIONS!

I hope that as you close this book of memories you will experience the feelings of happiness, sorrow of bad times or wrongs, but most of all feel the PASSIONS of our youth.

Vickie Hildebran

Marc,

It's been a ball as always having you in one of my classes. You are a very special friend to me Marc, you have always been there when I needed a dollar, or a good laugh. I hope the future only brings the best to you and who knows you may be in one of my classes next year. Have a great summer, and a great life.

Loveya!

PASSION

Football, homecoming and crowded halls,
Auto accidents, mid-terms, and lost baseballs,
Pep rallies, tennis, and that college application,
Flu epidemics, basketball and finally graduation,
Softball, track, and college scholarships,
Prom, exemptions, and Myrtle Beach trips,
Each year alike yet never the same,
Each very special of those which came,
Each class painted a different hue
By passions they have for things they do.

The English word "passion" is derived from the Latin "passio" which means "suffering." Indeed, no word better describes the high school experience in its entirety. There is the work — the exams, research papers, and long hours of study. There is the mental anguish of a heavy load of work and too little time in which to do it, of a test on material not understood. There is the dread of pop tests, of failure, of ridicule. There is also the personal suffering of the adolescent striving to be an adult: the almost inevitable conflict with Mom or Dad, the fear of not being accepted, of being "different," of being ridiculed or embarrassed. There is the terrible stress of beginning relationships with the opposite sex, the worry about getting a job, or getting money to go to college, and the list goes on.

Even the wonderful things convert to a sort of "bittersweet suffering" at the end. All of the proms, ball games, assemblies, dances — the good times — come back as memories of what is over and can be no more.

The high school experience is a paradox of passion. The suffering is endured and lightened by the good times, but when it is over, the suffering is remembered with pride and a smile of relief, but the good times are remembered with a tear.

A school has but one heart and soul —
The passion of students pursuing a goal.

Hello M-A-R-C!
This is my page but I will have to finish later! Well, I'm back now! And as usually pay this year has gone by fast! Marc, you're a friend that won't fail anyone if it can be helped. you have listened to me as it was happy, sad, or mad I have really tried listening to you and I hope you know that I'll always be here with my ears open. (everyone needs someone to talk too!) If I don't seem to be listening (very, very soon) you'll find Marc, I hope that someday (very soon) you will care about "and" that will care about you too! and I think you are, that means the most to me. I hope that someone that'll care about you someone to care about you anymore!! Take Care + Be you're like me, I really appreciate you in life. You deserve how much! Thanks!! You don't deserve to be hurt Careful! Alright!? By the way Wild + bringing me home!! you won't believe how Have a Great Summer or shall I pay a Summer! Look for me! I'll be around

Marc,

Well, I don't really know what to write, but here it goes. It's been great getting to know you better this year. It's been pretty wild in U.S. History class, especially when you was giving Mrs. Carpenter hell. Have a great summer and try to not go to all of this country hick things. (Just kidding). Stay away from the druss, but not the booze. Stay out of trouble if you can. See ya later. Bye.

Hark
Just think that yall yawl
be a Senior !!
This as been a good year, even tho you fussed with Mr and picked on me all the time! I let went up to bat. And I bet
you we'd to see a Spanish
Robin you wouldn't know what to say. Ha! Ha!
Good Luck who knows maybe next year
See ya well be in Spanish II together.
next year
